

Professorship (W3) in Economics, with a Specialization in Microeconomics at University of Stuttgart

INSTITUTE FOR ECONOMICS AND LAW | OCTOBER 1, 2022

The professor will be the head of the Department for Economics, with a specialization in Microeconomics. We expect the professorship to provide microeconomic contributions to academic teaching in Bachelor and Master programs, especially in (Technically) oriented Business Administration and in Economics Teaching Qualification. The professor should be able to represent the entire field of microeconomics.

We are seeking an individual with an excellent track record including internationally visible empirical research in applied microeconomics. The professorship's main research foci should lie in the fields of industrial organization, political economy, behavioural economics or experimental economics. Interests in the field of digital markets (e.g. platform economics) or in the field of data science and digitalization are an asset.

In addition to an excellent qualification for independent scientific work, documented by outstanding publications in renowned journals, a corresponding pedagogical suitability is a requirement. We expect an international orientation and the willingness and ability to teach in English. Moreover, we expect the professor to apply for research funds and to work together with other disciplines in our university's main interdisciplinary research area 'Intelligent Systems for a Sustainable Society', especially in the context of the Center for Interdisciplinary Risk and Innovation Studies (ZIRIUS) and the Stuttgart Research Focus 'Interchange Forum for Reflecting on Intelligent Systems (IRIS)'.

The requirements for employment listed in § 47 and § 50 Baden- Württemberg university law apply.

Written applications, including a curriculum vitae as well as a cover letter stating the applicant's teaching and research interests and the five most important scientific publications, should be sent no later than May 04, 2022 to the Dean of the Faculty of Management, Economics and Social Sciences of the University of Stuttgart, Prof. Dr. Michael- Jörg Oesterle, Keplerstrasse 17, 70174 Stuttgart, if possible by email (PDF) to dekanat@wiso.uni-stuttgart.de. Please be aware of the risks regarding confidentiality and the integrity of your application contents when sending your application via unencrypted email. Please note: Documents submitted with your application will not be returned. Therefore, please do not submit any original documents. They will be destroyed once the procedure has been completed (according to German data protection law).
